

FATHER MAY INDICT SON.

Howard Rudd's Case Before Body of Which Parent Is Member.

Among the cases on the calendar of the Bronx County Grand Jury to-day was that of Howard Rudd, twenty-one, of No. 1778 Morris Avenue, accused of an attempted assault on seventeen-year-old Gusie Barclay of No. 469 St. Ann's Avenue on June 16. One of the members of the Grand Jury was George Rudd, Howard Rudd's father, who was also a member of the so-called White Slave Grand Jury in this county, of which John D. Rockefeller Jr. was foreman.

The case of Howard Rudd was not called to-day. District Attorney Martin explained that because of a missing witness a postponement for a week had been made necessary.

GIRL IS KILLED BY TRUCK HORSES; ANOTHER MAY DIE

Jennie Nuzzo and Two Companions Knocked Down on Way to Work.

A team of horses attached to a truck owned by John Schroeder of No. 312 Jackson Avenue, Long Island City, and driven by Frank Lenahan, thirty-six years old, of No. 301 Jackson Avenue, the same city, became unmanageable shortly before 9 o'clock this morning at Fifty-ninth Street and Second Avenue and knocked down and killed Jennie Nuzzo, seventeen, of No. 224 East Fifty-eighth Street and badly hurt Freda and Margaret Dargula, sisters, eighteen and seventeen respectively, of No. 304 East Sixty-seventh Street. The latter was taken to her home and Freda to the Flower Hospital, where it was said she was internally hurt and may die.

The crossing at the time was crowded with girls and men on their way to work. Lenahan had just crossed the Queensborough Bridge from Long Island City and driven into Fifty-ninth Street on the wrong side of the thoroughfare. The horses became restless at the clanging of car bells and the honking of automobiles and went rearing and plunging into the avenue.

Men yelled to the driver and girls, screaming, ran in all directions. A panic ensued. Miss Nuzzo, in trying to get out of the way, ran into the horses and was knocked down, one or more of the truck wheels passing over her. The two Dargula sisters were next caught by the horses in the scattering crowd and were knocked down, but, so far as could be learned, were not run over.

The horses swerved into Second Avenue. Policeman Heitner of the East Sixty-seventh Street police station gave chase on his motorcycle. The team reached East Sixty-fourth Street before the policeman caught up with them. He grabbed the off horse by the bridle and hung on until other men went to his assistance. The crowd made a demonstration against the driver, who still clung to the lines. Women who had heard that all three girls had been killed strove to reach him. Heitner blew his whistle and two policemen went to his assistance. The driver was then placed under arrest.

LABOR OFFICIAL CALLED TO HIS DOOR AND SHOT

Fatal Wounding of Chicago Union Secretary Believed Due to Strike Troubles.

CHICAGO, July 6.—Charles H. Johnston, Secretary and Treasurer of the Brickmakers' Union, was shot twice below the heart as he answered a ring of his doorbell early to-day. Physicians said the wounds probably would be fatal. His assailant, whom he failed to recognize, escaped.

The police attribute the shooting to labor troubles. The brickmakers have been thrown out of employment as a result of the action of the construction material interests in refusing to deliver building supplies until the strike of 16,000 carpenters is settled.

Body Found in the Bay.
The body of a man about fifty-two years old floated in at Twenty-second Avenue, Brooklyn, early to-day. He was 5 feet 5 inches in height and weighed 160 pounds; had fair complexion, gray eyes, reddish gray hair, slightly bald on top; clean shaven; wore a black suit, gray socks and had a white metal pin with three white stones. In the pocket was a business card of an employment agency, No. 229 Broome Street, on the back of which, in lead pencil, was written: "Moe H. Pean, 114 East Houston Street."
